Read

And behold, a lawyer stood up to put him to the test, saying, “Teacher, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?” He said to him, “What is written in the Law? How do you read it?” And he answered, “You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself.” And he said to him, “You have answered correctly; do this, and you will live.” But he, desiring to justify himself, said to Jesus, “And who is my neighbor?” Jesus replied, “A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he fell among robbers, who stripped him and beat him and departed, leaving him half dead. Now by chance a priest was going down that road, and when he saw him he passed by on the other side. So likewise a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan, as he journeyed, came to where he was, and when he saw him, he had compassion. He went to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. Then he set him on his own animal and brought him to an inn and took care of him. And the next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the innkeeper, saying, ‘Take care of him, and whatever more you spend, I will repay you when I come back.’ Which of these three, do you think, proved to be a neighbor to the man who fell among the robbers?” He said, “The one who showed him mercy.” And Jesus said to him, “You go, and do likewise.”

—Luke 10:25–37 (English Standard Version)

Discuss

- Why was the lawyer challenging Jesus? Or Why did the lawyer ask his question?
 - What is surprising about the answer?
- How does Jesus define “neighbor” and what is so significant about his definition?
- Why did the priest and Levite simply walk past?
- Samaritans were not a well like people group. In this parable, the Samaritan was the least likely to help the man on the side of the road. How does knowing this cause us to understand this passage?
- How does loving your neighbor show the Gospel?
- Who is your neighbor and how can you love them this week?
- What is this passage teachings?
 - How would you and your family summarize what this passage?
- What is this passage call you to obey?
 - How can you love your neighbor this week?
- How can you and your family further study Luke 10:25-37 this week?

Further Discussion and Resources

Since we will not corporately meet together (in the same building) until further notice, here are some activities and opportunities for you and your family to study God's Word individually and together. Throughout the week, plan to meet regularly with your family to discuss these things with your family. Let us use this time of quarantine and #socialdistancing to disciple each other in our homes.
